

Special Department Store

On the very west of Machuchu Pikachu Island, there's a mysterious department store. Why is it mysterious? When someone really needs something, they can somehow see it in front of them. Or else, they may see nothing. It sells all kinds of things though, anything you can imagine. For instance, a pen, an apartment, a girlfriend, or even a future. The price depends on how desperately you need it.

On a rainy day, a girl was sailing on a boat just when lightning struck. She floated and landed on the very west of the Machuchu Pikachu Island. Suddenly, she saw the special department store! She ran and rushed through the doors of it. Her hair and clothes was dripping, "I really need some dry clothes!" she thought to herself. That's when a child appeared out of nowhere, "How much would you like to pay for some?" The child asked with a smirk. The girl was shocked, but she replied without hesitation. "Anything I can afford, please give me some!"

Before the girl got an answer, the building started shaking. She fell on the ground and when she stood up again, she was in a market in dry clothes with a bunch of people walking by. She was so confused about what had just happened. "How much would you like to pay for your luck?" She heard someone and turned around. There was a man talking to another man...

To Be Continued